CHALLENGE

The Kern Community College District was faced with implementing a new district-wide ID program.

The District's main goal was to provide students a card that could be used for library services, student activity benefits and other services as the campus card program expanded.

Works with Banner Student Information System

REQUIREMENTS

In order to streamline card printing and issuance, the new carding system had to be integrated with their existing Banner Student Information System. It was crucial that students were receiving the correct ID card without any errors.

Working between 3 different campuses and their environments, the Kern Community College District wanted a system that was flexible in order to accommodate the specific needs of each college. The system also needed to be easy to use for the people operating the system.

Protective laminate

SOLUTION

CI Solutions worked with KCCD to make sure that the systems integrated and each campus received a specialized system for their unique needs. At each college, CI Badge ID Software was set up to view enrolled student information and print ID cards.

Pre-printed graphics

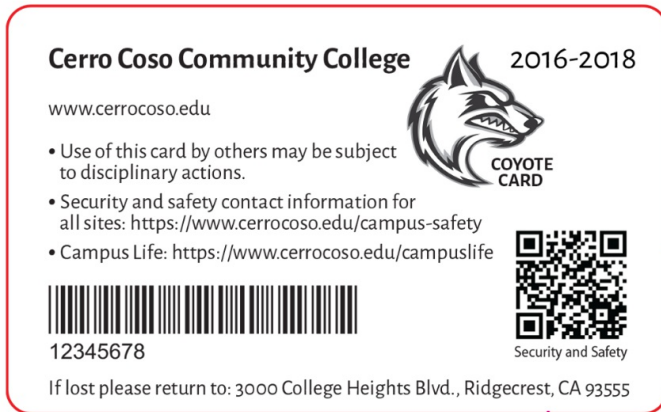

Barcode & magnetic stripe on back

Each campus could now capture current student ID photos and print on preprinted card stock, saving the district money on printing materials and time on card printing. A protective layer of lamination was also added to each card to guarantee cards lasted throughout the student's time on campus.

The campuses cut down on printing time with a Banner integration that allows ID system users to search registered students by last name or ID number and pull up current student information for ID card printing.

CARD BACKS

The ID cards were encoded with magnetic stripes for students to use when checking into offices and barcodes that could be used in the library.
